WHAT'S WHAT OF SAILING IN ROCK!

CEYS (Camel Estuary Youth Sailing) was established in 2006. Its aim is to teach local children - primarily 9-10 year olds recruited from local schools - by paying for their lessons. It is separate from the sailing club and the sailing centre, although the three work closely together.

RSWSC (Rock Sailing & Water Ski Club) is a members - only club based on the quayside opposite The Mariners at Rock. The club welcomes new boating members and also offers social membership to Cornwall residents who don't sail or ski. Children who have completed the CEYS course to RYA Stage 3 (Helms) or Stage 2 (Crew) are able to join as Local Family Juniors allowing them to develop their sailing and racing skills if they wish.

CAMEL SAILING & POWERBOAT CENTRE is a commercial RYA - endorsed tuition centre located close to the lifeboat station at Rock. It is this company that runs all the classes funded by CEYS and in due course, seasonally employs some CEYS graduates as instructors.

THANK YOU PARTNERS!

Rock players came up trumps in November's annual CEYS Bridge bash. RSWSC's clubroom was packed to capacity with 52 players and a grand-slamming £1015 was raised. A surprise gift of Georg Jensen tree decorations was auctioned and contributed a generous £100 towards that amount.

EASTER STREET COLLECTION

Stalwarts collected and stalwarts donated; as ever thank you to both. Collecting coins is a challenge in our increasingly cashless society but your loose change is important to us. £299.50 important on this occasion.

FROM ONE SAILOR TO ANOTHER...

Shrimper Week's garden party raffle toasted a great £430 to CEYS - the Shrimper sailors of the future!

BIG SPLASH

Stand on the Sailing Club balcony railings, take a deep breath and jump off into the sea ...not for the faint-hearted, but for those who did just that in RSWSC's summer Big Splash, you bravely raised £147 for CEYS.

THE FUTURE IS FUSION!

Look out for the new Fusion CEYS training dinghy in Rock. Both Sailing Club juniors and the Sailing school are now using these British-built boats and with others sailing their own, the Fusion looks to become a major youth fleet on the estuary. It is stable and forgiving yet with plenty of excitement and potential for stretching both novice and experienced sailors alike. You can't mistake a Fusion - just keep an eye out for their distinctive two-tone blue and yellow sails.

GOODBYE AND HELLO

CEYS Chair Anne Murray bid farewell in November, returning to London with husband John after a seven-year Rock retirement. Fellow trustees Julien Wenger and Roger Heydon are also standing down, each with many years of CEYS behind them. Tim Lunt remains as President. Trustee Roger Williams has stepped up to Chair and new trustees Henry Gompertz, Nicky Roads, Mark Stacey and Sam Thomas are joining him.

Henry Gompertz.

Ex-surgeon, triathlete and dinghy racer, now a keen Shrimper sailor.

Nicky Roads.

An early days CEYS supporter, all-round sportswoman, and mother of three CEYS graduates - including Toby who tall-ship sailed all the way to Antarctica!

Mark Stacey.

Vice- Commodore Sailing at RSWSC, PHC commissioner, cyclist and father of sailing enthusiast George, age 7.

Sam Thomas.

Part of dream team driving Cornish Crabbers and mother of two CEYS graduates Ed and Harry. Sam professes to know nothing of sailing but wins with husband Peter virtually every time.

Roger Williams.

Ex-Commodore RSWSC and 5 years a CEYS trustee. Races dinghies and Shrimpers. Spent decades on gravel pit under pylons and now rejoices in sailing waters of Cornwall.

WHAT DOES IT ALL COST?

CEYS aims to raise enough money each year to teach 30 or so local children to sail. At about £300 lesson costs per child, that's £9000 we need. Your contributions really do make a difference. Gift-aided donations help all the more.
